COVID-19'S IMPACT ON ADMISSIONS

Considering the pandemic's impact on students and families, many schools nationwide have changed their admissions processes. Some of these changes we've seen include making entrance exams optional or not required, requiring additional letters of recommendation, adding another round of interviews, and requiring/recommending the CSS (Character Sills Snapshot). As schools continue to adapt and rethink their admissions policies and procedures, we encourage checking with your prospective schools to confirm their individual deadlines and policies.

Approaching the ISEE Exam

What is the ISEE?

The ISEE is an admissions test used by independent schools across the country and the test of choice for members of the Los Angeles Independent Schools Consortium. It is administered by the Educational Records Bureau (ERB) and is accepted by over 1,200 independent schools around the world.

What is the test format of the ISEE?

The ISEE is made up of four multiple choice sections (Verbal Reasoning, Quantitative Reasoning, Reading Comprehension, Math Achievement) and an ungraded essay that is sent directly to your chosen school(s). Students have the option to take the test on paper and pencil at a testing site, on a computer at a Prometric Testing Center, or at home on a computer via the Prometric ProProctor system. The content of all tests are the same.

Lower Level, entering grades 5-6

Section	# of Questions	Time Limit
Verbal Reasoning	34	20 min
Quantitative Reasoning	38	35 min
Reading Comprehension	25 (5 Passages with 5 Questions Each)	25 min
Math Achievement	30	30 min
Essay	1 Essay (response to a prompt)	30 min
Total Time		2hr, 20min

Middle Level, entering grades 7-8 Upper Level, entering grades 9-12

Section	# of Questions	Time Limit
Verbal Reasoning	40	20 min
Quantitative Reasoning	37	35 min
Reading Comprehension	36 (6 Passages with 6 Questions Each)	35 min
Math Achievement	47	40 min
Essay	1 Essay (response to a prompt)	30 min
Total Time		2hr, 40min

In addition, a computer-only primary-level test is available for grades 2-4. For more information about the primary-level test, please see our website at www.latutors123.com/tutoring-resources/isee/format-dates

When and where should my child take the ISEE?

Specific school deadlines vary, but most require students to take the ISEE by the January before the entrance year. Some students prefer to wait until closer to the deadline to give themselves extra time to prepare, while others take it as early as August or September so they can focus on school during the year or take the test twice. The ISEE paper test is offered at schools across the Los Angeles area (mostly on Saturdays), and the computer version can be scheduled at one's convenience at Prometric Test Centers, or on specific dates at home.

Can my child take the ISEE more than once? Can they take it for practice?

Students may take the ISEE once per testing season, as follows:

Fall				Winter				Spring/Summer
Aug	Sept	Oct	Nov	Dec	Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr	May	June	July

Families may review their scores before sending them to a school. Students who want the option of taking the ISEE more than once usually choose a September, October, or November date for their initial test and December or January date for their final test.

How do I register for the ISEE?

You may register for the ISEE over the phone or online at www.iseeonline.erblearn.org. Registration typically opens August 1; early registration ensures you'll get your first choice date and test site!

When should I start studying?

Students and families should identify their top schools at least a year before the application process begins. Once you know which schools you're interested in applying to, take a diagnostic test in order to gauge what your studying timeline should be. Some students need 6-8 months to reach their target scores while others may already be within their prospective school's range. Many tutoring companies offer complimentary diagnostic tests for students – including us! Reach out to us here to inquire: www.latutors123.com/free-diagnostic-tests

How much does the ISEE count towards my child’s application?

ISEE scores are only one factor in a student’s application and each school weighs the test differently. Many schools have changed their admissions requirement for the 2022-2023 academic year, and may place additional emphasis on alternate areas of the application process. We encourage checking with your prospective schools to confirm their individual policies.

How is the ISEE scored?

A student’s raw score (the number of questions correct) is converted to a scaled score between 760-940. There is no guessing penalty. However, most schools look closely at the stanine, a score based on a student’s percentile rank. In calculating the stanine, a student is only compared with students in their grade-level. This means that a 7th grader taking the middle-level test could get more questions correct but score in a lower stanine than a 6th grader taking the same test.

Stanine	Percentile
1	1-3
2	4-10
3	11-22
4	23-39
5	40-59
6	60-76
7	77-88
8	89-95
9	96-99

What is a “good” score?

This is a difficult question to answer, but in general you can assume that a score lower than the average admitted student for that school will hinder the application, while a higher one will help. Test Innovators, the company that runs www.iseepracticetest.com, has gathered data from students about their scores and admissions outcomes. Here is an example of one of their findings:

School	Stanine Scores
Calvary Christian School	1-4	5-6	7-9

■ These scores are usually detrimental to applications. We’ve seen students get into just about every school with just about every score, but students with scores in this range need the other parts of their application to be extremely strong.

■ Scores in this range neither help nor hinder applications.

■ Scores in this range help applications by demonstrating test-taking proficiency above the usual applicant pool. They show the school that the student has significant academic capability and promise.

My child gets excellent grades and standardized test scores, but did poorly on the ISEE/HSPT practice test. Why?

- The ISEE is fast-paced and has a strict time limit
- The ISEE contains many above grade-level questions and concepts and is administered to multiple grade levels
- The ISEE percentile and stanine scores stem from a highly competitive group of students with higher average achievement than the general school population

Can my child take the SSAT instead?

A few independent schools allow students to choose between admissions tests. The SSAT is used by most boarding schools and some independent schools, but the ISEE is the most commonly accepted test for private schools in the Los Angeles area.

How does the ISEE compare to the HSPT?

The Upper-Level ISEE and SSAT tests are generally considered more difficult than the HSPT. The ISEE allows more time per question, but the questions tend to be lengthier versus the HSPT. Students who prepare for the ISEE should not need much more preparation for the HSPT. They should, however, do some practice to become comfortable with the wider variety of topics and question types on the HSPT, especially in the Verbal Skills and Language sections.

Approaching the HSPT Exam

What is the HSPT?

The High School Placement Test (HSPT) is the admissions test used by Catholic high schools around the country for students entering ninth grade. It is administered by Scholastic Testing Service (STS).

What is the test format of the HSPT?

The HSPT is made up of five multiple choice sections (Verbal Skills, Quantitative Skills, Reading, Mathematics, and Language). In addition, there are optional sections for Science, Religion, and Mechanical Aptitude. Students should check with their prospective school(s) to verify if any of these optional sections are required. The test is on paper and no computer version is offered at this time.

When and where should my child take the HSPT?

The HSPT is typically administered in January at the school to which the student is applying. Check with your prospective school(s) about possible test dates.

Can my child take the HSPT more than once? Can they take it for practice?

According to STS, the HSPT can only be taken once per year. Their policy is that "In the event a student does take the test more than once, the lower score is considered his/her score." However, some schools do allow students to take the test more than once (for example, taking it once at their top choice school and again at their second choice school). Students are encouraged to check with the admissions office of their prospective school(s) to confirm this detail.

How do I register for the HSPT?

You may register for the HSPT through the school(s) to which you or your student is applying. Some schools may charge a separate fee for the test, while others include it in the application fee.

When should I start studying?

Students and families should identify their top schools at least a year before the application process begins. Once you know which schools you're interested in applying to, take a diagnostic test in order to gauge what your studying timeline should be. Some students need 6-8 months to reach their target scores while others may already be within their prospective school's range. Many tutoring companies offer complimentary diagnostic tests for students – including us! Reach out to us here to inquire: www.latutors123.com/free-diagnostic-tests

Section	# of Questions	Time Limit
Verbal Skills	60	16 min
Quantitative Skills	52	30 min
Reading	62	25 min
Mathematics	64	45 min
Language	60	25 min
Total Time		2hr, 21min

How much does the HSPT count towards my child's application?

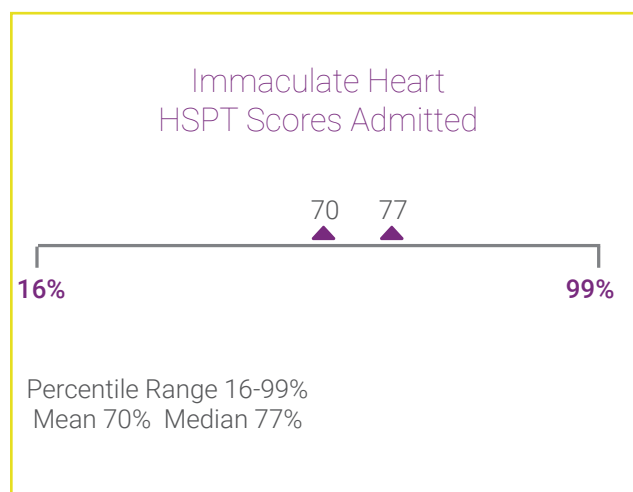

HSPT scores are only one factor in a student's application and each school weighs the test differently. That being said, most schools agree that HSPT results are an important component of the admissions decision. Some schools may also use the HSPT to determine merit scholarships and/or class placement.

How is the HSPT scored?

A student's raw score (the number of questions correct) is converted to a scaled score between 200-800 which is also used to create a national and local percentile rank. There is no guessing penalty. The number most admissions offices look at closely is the local percentile (range of 1-99), which indicates student performance compared to other HSPT test-takers who tested in the same school/school system.

What is a "good score"?

The simple answer is that a "good" score is one that results in admission to your prospective school. Students do not always receive a copy of the score report that is sent to the schools, so it's difficult to determine exactly how the raw score (number of questions correct) relates to the percentile score. In the following school pages you will find average admitted HSPT scores for a sampling of Catholic schools in the Los Angeles area. An example is below for reference.

My child gets excellent grades and standardized test scores, but did poorly on a HSPT practice test. Why?

- The HSPT is fast-paced, with a strict time limit
- The HSPT contains a few question types—like verbal logic and multi-step math sequences—that students might not have encountered before
- The HSPT includes questions with above grade-level vocabulary and math concepts, along with lesser-known rules of grammar and punctuation

Can my child take the SSAT instead?

A few Catholic and independent schools allow students to choose between admissions tests. The SSAT is used by most boarding schools and some independent schools, but the HSPT is the most commonly accepted test for Catholic schools in the Los Angeles area.

How does the HSPT compare to the ISEE?

The HSPT is generally considered easier than the Upper-Level ISEE and SSAT tests, but it is still a challenging test. The ISEE allows more time per question, but the questions tend to be lengthier. Students who prepare for the HSPT may need more preparation for the ISEE.

Shalhevet is unlike any other school in the country. Walk the halls or enter our classrooms — you will feel a palpable energy generated by inquisitive and empowered students enjoying thoughtful discourse with their teachers and classmates. Our dedicated faculty strives to challenge the students to think clearly and creatively and to act with integrity and compassion. Unique to Shalhevet is our emphasis on moral development and our Just Community, which offers students the opportunity to participate in a democratic society. This helps teach our children to talk about critical concepts such as justice, freedom, truth and responsibility. Most schools shy away from confronting these difficult questions — we address them directly and educate the entire child.

A Word From Admissions

We seek students who will enhance our community with inquisitiveness and menschlichkeit. Prospective students should be passionate about their Judaism, and excited to be a part of all that Shalhevet has to offer. We want students who engage thoughtfully, in class, in co-curriculars and in the world beyond Shalhevet.

Academic Atmosphere

Supportive, progressive and rigorous.

Best Fit for Kids Who Are

Curious, passionate and want to find their voice.

Popular Programs/Electives

Shalhevet offers outstanding opportunities to partake in Athletics, Choir, Debate, Drama, and Robotics. Our students found and run clubs including Astronomy, Business, Cooking & Culture, Entrepreneurial Society, Fashion, Film, Medical Society, Meditation & Mindfulness, Peer to Peer tutoring, Politics, Sports Management, Young Americans for Freedom and Philosophy. At our weekly student-run Town Hall, our community engages in discussions about ethics, morality, controversial current events and school policies that affect our students. Please see our website for additional information.

APs/Advanced Courses

Shalhevet offers Shalhevet Advanced Studies (SAS) classes including biochemistry, computer science (including Python coding language), Civil War, Jewish literature, gov & econ, film studies and studio art. We offer all college-prep math courses through Calculus BC. Other popular courses include popular psychology, Eurasia and creative writing.

We dream big at YULA. That's because we have great aspirations for our graduates. A YULA graduate is able to live with his feet firmly planted in two distinct worlds: the Beit Medrash, with the skills, inspiration, and passion to make daily Torah study a lifelong pursuit, as well as the broader world around us, with the education and training that will open every possible academic and professional opportunity, ultimately leading to a passion-driven career path. Graduates of our yeshiva leave with a firm foundation in both Torah studies and general studies, as B'nei Torah who are firmly rooted in Jewish tradition, ready to make an impact on the wider community. Armed with deep and meaningful relationships with fellow classmates, rebbeim, and teachers, they are poised to make growth a lifelong pursuit.

A Word From Admissions

At the heart of our school is an exceptional faculty that is driven to inspire our students to achieve greatness. And the relationships forged between our faculty and students—relationships that stand at the very core of the YULA experience—do not end at graduation. We strongly encourage you to visit YULA in person so that you can discover firsthand how our outstanding Rebbeim and excellent general studies faculty engage and inspire all of our students.

Sierra Canyon School is a private, independent, non-sectarian, co-educational, college preparatory school for students in grades Pre-Kindergarten through 12 located in Chatsworth, California. The highly cosmopolitan campus community is reflective of the Greater Los Angeles area and the world at large. Students are empowered to realize their greatest creative, ethical, intellectual and physical promise through small class sizes, a diverse student-teacher culture and a family-like environment.

A Word From Admissions

Since our founding four decades ago, a spirit of enthusiastic creativity has swept through Sierra Canyon School. That spirit grows stronger, as our carefully designed Pre-Kindergarten through grade 12 program expands every child's vision, ambition, and capability a little more every day. In our Lower School's verdant enclave, your children discover and hone their indelible talents and abiding interests. Our nurturing program intentionally builds academic agility, genuine confidence, and compassionate character—preparing your child to thrive in the intensive intellectual laboratories of our Middle and Upper Schools. From that capacious launch pad, your child sets forth for college and beyond as an uncommonly self-aware, self-advocating, and self-directed young adult. We call that Learning Forward.

Academic Atmosphere

Supportive and nurturing.

Best Fit for Kids Who Are

Popular Programs/Electives

Extracurricular involvement is a vital part of the learning experience at Sierra Canyon. Clubs and organizations allow students and their faculty sponsors to engage in shared learning, passion and educational growth outside of the traditional boundaries of the classroom. Among our programs and curriculum include experiential learning, service learning, character education, and Peak Week (perhaps our Upper Campus's most beloved signature program). Every year for Peak Week, students choose from dozens of local and international experiences that take their learning beyond the classroom and into new territory.

APs/Advanced Courses

The Middle School program challenges students and encourages them to take maximum advantage of educational opportunities as doors are opened to new ideas that evoke curiosity and the desire to explore. The Upper School offers a rigorous academic curriculum, taught by passionate, diverse and expert teachers. Our program, which includes 23 AP courses, is designed to provide a wide range of intellectual opportunities that allow the student to delve deeply into areas of particular interest.

At Mayfield Senior School, an all-girls college preparatory high school, we educate the minds and hearts of compassionate and inquisitive students and guide them to become joyful, faith-filled, confident young women. We know how girls learn best and provide an irresistible community of discovery and excellence, rooted in the Catholic values of the Society of the Holy Child Jesus. "Being a Holy Child school means that everything we do—academics, arts, sports, service—is done with the powerful belief that God is an active presence in our lives," says Head of School Kate Morin. Mayfield's Pasadena campus is located in a beautiful residential neighborhood with a historic mansion as our main hall—it's truly a second home.

A Word From Admissions

We are cheering for you during your important high school selection journey! Please know we are here to help you every step of the way. When Head of School Kate Morin introduces girls and their families to Mayfield, her message is clear and simple. "Mayfield is a place of joy and love," she says. We are a place where you'll be appreciated for being exactly who you are, and who you will become. The application process at Mayfield is all about being yourself. We want to get to know you and find out more about you. There are no wrong answers!

At Polytechnic School, our name conveys both a sense of our history and of our philosophical base. Polytechnic literally means “many arts,” and since 1907, Poly has been a place where students become multi-talented, intellectually ambitious citizens of the world. As a K-12 school, we are able to create a coordinated sequence of learning across all grades and developmental stages. Our Lower, Middle, and Upper School programs provide continuity for students and allow Poly teachers to invest deeply in each child’s progress over the long term. Our graduates leave Poly ready to fulfill the promise of their own talents and to lead meaningful, purposeful lives.

A Word From Admissions

Students achieve their full potential within a vibrant learning community at Poly. Admission is the pathway to join our student-centered K-12 community by visiting, applying, and learning about affording a Poly education. We envision a community of students, inspired by transformative teaching, who will contribute profoundly to the world as intellectual leaders. We develop the unique intellect, talents, and character of each student in a community dedicated to academic excellence, personal responsibility, and service to others.

Academic Atmosphere

Transformative, community-oriented.

Mirman School
16180 Mulholland Drive
Los Angeles, CA 90049
(310) 476-2868

WWW. mirman.org
bbarry@mirman.org

Since 1962, Mirman has held true to our founding vision of challenging and inspiring highly gifted children to become complex and creative problem solvers and multidimensional and analytic thinkers as well as contributing and active members of our local and global communities. We continue to realize this vision through honoring the powerful connection between and among our talented faculty and students and partnering with families to ensure a connected and forward-thinking community. Through student-centered programming, we remain committed to fostering a safe and inclusive school culture that cultivates social-emotional and academic growth in our students.

A Word From Admissions

At Mirman, we take a holistic approach to learning, which means our school is not strictly an academic environment. There are vibrant arts and athletics communities at Mirman. We feel our students are able to challenge themselves and learn just as much on the field, court, or stage as they do in the classroom. Just as we work to provide the appropriate level of challenge for our students in math or reading, we support the passionate artistic or athletic student with many opportunities to develop their skills and perform. We truly believe that one passion does not need to exclude another. At Mirman, a student is encouraged and guided to enjoy both a vigorous academic path and a variety of extracurricular activities. Our goal is to foster our students' passions and provide opportunities to try, and excel at, new things.

Academic Atmosphere

Challenging and engaging.

Best Fit for Kids Who Are

Curious and passionate.

Popular Programs/Electives

Our goal at Mirman is to engage the whole child. Along with academic, artistic, and athletic programs, we strive to make sure our students develop strong character. This development is framed by the Mirman Core Values (Responsibility, Integrity, Discovery, Empathy, Resilience), which describe the skills we feel are necessary for children to achieve success both inside and out of the Mirman classroom. By organizing our curriculum and instruction around these ideas of responsibility, integrity, discovery, empathy, and resilience, we work to make sure every Mirman student is an individual of high character.

APs/Advanced Courses

At Mirman, we believe that no school should put a limit on what a child can learn. For that reason, our curriculum model is based on a combination of acceleration and increased depth and complexity. Each of our classes is accelerated by one academic year, meaning a Third Grade class will cover what is traditionally Fourth Grade material. Those grade-level standards are then taught through a thematic lens that encourages students to explore the topics with greater depth and complexity. This allows for our students to be challenged academically while still being in a class of same-age peers that is designed to promote and support their social and emotional development.

Interesting Facts

- MirmanX is a middle school startup accelerator that encourages Upper School students to tackle moonshot projects that have the potential to help a community in some meaningful, tangible way.
- Our Upper School Concert Singers have earned superior ratings in national adjudicated choral festivals and our Theatre Arts Program has been an honored participant in the California State Thespians Festival for the past 10 years.
- Our student to teacher ratio is 7:1.

www.pilgrim-school.org
admissionsinquiry@pilgrim-school.org

Our elementary school is a safe environment for children to grow, learn, and play. Small class sizes allow for enriched open-ended learning opportunities within a challenging academic program that promotes independent and critical thinking skills, encourages inquiry and investigation, and emphasizes independent thinking. Pilgrim secondary students continue their progress from readiness to full participation in the world of young adulthood. They find themselves poised to integrate the lessons of heart, mind, and soul. As students meet the greater demands of Middle and High School, they find the support of attentive and caring teachers complemented by new learning tools.

A Word From Admissions

At Pilgrim School our students are educated beyond a narrowly-defined set of academic skills. We've redefined student success to include the academic knowledge, artistic exploration, and social skills that they will need to become inquisitive critical thinkers, collaborative problem-solvers, creative pioneers, strong communicators, and empathetic global citizens.

Academic Atmosphere

Enriching, nurturing, and enabling thoughtful moral choices.

Best Fit for Kids Who Are

Compassionate, engaged thinkers.

Popular Programs/Electives

Pilgrim is a college preparatory school and, beginning at an early age, our curriculum is designed around subjects that will prepare students for continuing their higher level education at a college or university. In addition to core subjects including mathematics, language arts which includes phonics, reading, writing composition, spelling, and penmanship, science, and geography and history. Pilgrim also offers physical education, music, science labs, Spanish, Mandarin and art. The curriculum is fully integrated with our library and technology programs.

APs/Advanced Courses

Pilgrim's graduation requirements are based on the minimum admission requirements set forth by the University of California system. These standards meet or exceed the minimum requirements to be considered for admissions to the selective academic institutions throughout the country. We offer AP courses in multiple departments.

Interesting Facts
